Uniform

There are children in school with expensive trainers on with no school shoes or pumps to change in to. Recently a few are panicking as they have misplaced them. School cannot be responsible for lost items so please refrain from sending children in expensive trainers. If your child is in trainers, they MUST have pumps in school to change in to as trainers mark the school corridors and hall.

Anti-Bullying

I am really proud to share that our anti-bullying ambassadors completed an assembly yesterday with the whole-school. They planned and prepared this themselves and are now planning on providing a follow-up activity for each class.

I hope you will join me in thanking, Tasneem, Ryan, Ky-Mani and Bernadett.

Internet safety

There have been a few parents and children mentioning about the momo sinister challenge.

We are not as a school talking about this as we do not wish to scare the children that are unaware of it or draw attention to it so children go and look for it. We would appreciate if parents feel it needs discussing that you kindly do this at home.

Top tips include;

1. Tell them it's not real
2. Be present when they are online
3. Talk regularly with your child about what they are watching
4. Check parental controls on your children's devices
